Professional and scientific conference ArhiBau 2025

The theme of the ArhiBau 2025 fair and conference is “Housing for a Sustainable Community – Insights and Guidelines”

The professional and scientific conference program, taking place from September 10 to 13, 2025, brings together domestic and international architects, urban planners, civil engineers, and other experts interested in exploring and shaping the future of living and working spaces, as well as the role of architecture and construction in building our world.

This year's conference will spotlight the pressing challenges of affordable housing development in Croatia and Europe. Through carefully curated panels and expert-led discussions, the program will explore sustainable financing models, urban integration, innovative construction technologies, and supportive legislative frameworks — all aimed at enabling accessible and long-lasting housing solutions for everyone.
